ABOUT OUR CODE & YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

TO WHOM THE CODE APPLIES

The Code of Business Conduct and Ethics (COBCE) provides the ethical guidelines and expectations for conducting business on behalf of ORWOOD, and its subsidiaries companies.

These entities are commonly referred to as “ORWOOD” or “the Company.” The COBCE applies to all employees and members of the Board of Directors of the Company. It also applies to individuals who serve the Company on contract, subcontract, retainer, consultant or any other such basis.

The COBCE further applies and covers the extended ORWOOD family comprising of Suppliers, service providers, external professionals, agents, channel partners (dealers, distributors and others) who serve as an extension of the Company. The extended ORWOOD family is also expected to adhere to the Company COBCE in equal measure while working for and on behalf of ORWOOD.

HOW TO USE THE CODE OF BUSINESS CONDUCT

The COBCE is designed to help employees and the extended family members of the Company to understand, recognize and deal with ethical issues which they may face from time to time while working for or on behalf of Company. ORWOOD’s policy is to comply with all applicable laws and regulations, to be committed to conducting business in an ethical manner and to act with integrity in dealing with our customers, suppliers, partners, competitors, employees and other stakeholders.

The COBCE is a guide to help whenever you have questions about ethics or if you are faced with an ethical dilemma. COBCE may not address all the situations which you may encounter and sometimes you may need expert views to understand and interpret the specific aspects dealt with under COBCE. In these situations, consult the ORWOOD policies (forming part of the Book of Policies) referenced throughout the COBCE.

EMPLOYEE RESPONSIBILITIES

ORWOOD is made up of multi-individuals, each with unique perspectives and aspirations. Though we are all different, we all share a common understanding of ethical conduct and more so the importance of “Unyielding Integrity.” Without having unchallengeable reputation for integrity, we would fail with customers and in our own eyes. We must strive to maintain the highest ethical standards.

In particular:

- Always act in a professional, honest, and ethical manner when acting on behalf of the Company.
- Be familiar with the information contained in the COBCE and the policies thereunder and pay attention to the policies that governs your job responsibilities.
- Complete all required employee trainings relating to COBCE in a timely manner and keep up to date on current standards and expectations.
- Promptly report concerns about possible violations of the COBCE to your manager, manager’s manager, HR manager, head of the business, any member of Senior Management, any member of the Legal Department.
- Cooperate and tell the whole truth when responding to an investigation or audit and never alter or destroy records in response to an investigation, or when an investigation is anticipated.

ETHICAL LEADERSHIP

If you are in a leadership position at ORWOOD, you are also expected to meet the following additional responsibilities:

- Lead by example ('walk the talk'). Managers are expected to exemplify the highest standards of ethical business conduct and to model the "Spirit of ORWOOD."
- Support implementation of ethics and business conduct programs of ORWOOD's values and ethical business conduct guidelines through such programs.
- Help create a work environment that focuses on building relationships. Recognize effort and value mutual respect and open communication.
- Communicate to employees and business partners (such as dealers, distributors, agents) about how the COBCE and policies apply to their daily work.
- Be proactive. Look for opportunities to discuss and address ethics and ethically challenging situations with team members.
- Create an environment where everyone feels comfortable asking questions and reporting potential violations of the COBCE and policies.
- Never ask another or pressure anyone to do something that is in violation of the COBCE.
- Be aware of the limits of your authority and do not take any action that exceeds those limits. Delegate authority only where permissible and never delegate authority to any individual who you believe may engage in unlawful conduct or unethical activities.
- If you supervise third parties, ensure that they understand COBCE.

MAKING THE RIGHT CHOICE

Making the right decision is not always easy. There will be times when you will be under pressure or unsure of what to do.

Always remember when you have a tough choice to make, you are not alone. Your fellow ORWOOD are available to help, and you have other resources to turn to including the COBCE.

When faced with a tough ethical decision it may help to pause and ask these questions. If you give a negative answer to even one question, consider a different action or seek help:

- Is it the right thing to do? Is it legal? Is it consistent with our policies?
- Have I considered all the options?
- Will my actions be consistent with the "Spirit of ORWOOD?"
- Will I be comfortable telling others about my decision?
- Can I honestly say I'd be proud of the choice I made?
- What is the possible impact of my actions on others, including fellow employees and stakeholders?

ASKING QUESTIONS AND RAISING CONCERNS

In today's complex business environment, it is inevitable that questions and ethics and compliance concerns will arise. The sooner ORWOOD leadership knows about possible problems, the sooner they can be addressed.

Each one of us is responsible to promptly raise issues or concerns about misconduct. If you become aware of conduct that you believe violates ORWOOD's policies, regulations, or the law, talk to your manager. If this seems inappropriate, or if you don't believe the person to whom you've reported your concern has taken appropriate action, you have several additional options:

Speak with your manager's manager or any member of Senior Management.

Contact the Legal Department or your HR manager.

In addition, if you have a question about a ORWOOD policy, you can send your query to: hr@orwood.com.

No form of retaliatory action will be taken against that employee raising a concern even if the same does not turn out to be true. But in raising the concern the employee is advised to exercise due care to ensure good faith.

PREVENTING RETALIATION

Managers must listen openly to concerns about misconduct, respond appropriately, and never retaliate against those who raise issues in good faith. Lack of content/expert knowledge could cause anxiety on an employee's part to believe it to be wrong—that's fine.

It is a violation of our policy and contrary to our values to engage in retaliatory acts against any employee who reports wrongdoing of any type, or any employee who testifies, assists or participates in a proceeding, investigation or hearing relating to allegations of misconduct.

ORWOOD takes claims of retaliation seriously. All such claims will be thoroughly investigated and if substantiated, retaliators will be disciplined up to and including termination. If you believe you have been retaliated against, you should report such action to the HR or use any of the reporting methods described in the COBCE.

ACCOUNTABILITY AND DISCIPLINE

Violating relevant laws, regulations, or the COBCE, or expecting or encouraging others to do so, exposes the Company to liability and puts the Company's reputation at risk. If an ethics or compliance problem does occur, you have an obligation to contact one of the resources listed in the COBCE so that an effective solution can be developed.

ORWOOD will take appropriate disciplinary action including up to termination against any employee, agent, contractor or consultant, whose actions are found to violate these policies or any other policies of ORWOOD.

The "Spirit of ORWOOD" enshrines the following principles: –

Be passionate about client's success

Treat each person with respect

Be global and responsible

Unyielding integrity in everything we do

ORWOOD, know that winning and success are only possible if we consistently act in the best interests of our clients, business partners and the public as a responsible corporate citizen with unyielding integrity.

ORWOOD's Legal Department must review and approve all contracts with any government entity to confirm this.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Our Standard

A conflict of interest occurs whenever you have a competing interest that may interfere with your ability to make an objective decision in the best interests of ORWOOD. Personal involvement including financial interests or dealings with competitors, clients, managers, subordinate employees or peers of ORWOOD that has the potential to affect the employee's ability to exercise judgment in the best interests of ORWOOD creates an actual or potential conflict of interest.

Each of us is expected to use good judgment and avoid situations that can lead to even the appearance of a conflict. Conflicts of interest can undermine the trust others place in us and damage our reputation.

It is impossible to describe every potential scenario of conflict, which is why ORWOOD relies on each of us to uphold the high standard of "Unyielding Integrity" and to seek advice when needed. If you believe a conflict or potential conflict exists, discuss it with your manager, or HR.

Some examples of conflicts of interest are:

- Working directly or indirectly either as an officer, employee, consultant or agent for a competitor or client.

Family Member and Close Personal Relationships

As a rule, employees must avoid conducting any ORWOOD business with a relative (which includes a “significant other”) or a business in which a relative is associated in a key role. If such a related-party transaction is unavoidable, the employee must fully disclose the nature of the related-party transaction to his/her HR manager.

Members of an employee’s immediate family and those in a close personal relationship may be considered for employment based on their qualifications and they may be hired if such employment would not create manager-subordinate relationship. If a close personal relationship exists or develops between two employees, both employees involved must bring this to the attention of their manager and HR manager. Attempts will be made to find a suitable resolution in the form of job segregation.

Personal Investments and Corporate Opportunities

Employees may not own, either directly or indirectly, a substantial interest in any business that does or seeks to do business with, or is in competition with ORWOOD, without written approval of the CFO.

Employees are also prohibited from making personal business or investment opportunities that are discovered during their work at ORWOOD.

Outside Employment

While it is not the intent of ORWOOD to unduly restrict the activities of employees on their own time, employees may not work for or receive payments for services from any business whether it competes with ORWOOD’s business or not.

A conflict of interest will also arise if an employee opts for outside work, including self-employment or commercial pursuit of hobbies and interests since it will interfere with the employee’s ability to fulfil his or her responsibilities to ORWOOD.

Volunteer or Charitable Work

On a case-by-case basis, employees may be permitted to work for non-profit/not-for-profit organizations, clubs and charitable institutions provided prior disclosure is made to the HR manager. The employee must ensure that the services they provide do not affect ORWOOD’s interest or reputation. The employee must not accept remuneration for any service rendered except reimbursement of reasonable and customary expenses.

Proactively address situations that may put your interests or those of a family member or others in potential conflict with ORWOOD.

The Legal Department determines and identifies what types of ORWOOD records or documents are required to be placed under a legal hold. Every ORWOOD employee, agent and contractor must comply with this requirement. The Legal Department will notify employees if a legal hold is placed on records for which they are responsible. If employees have any questions about this, they shall contact the Legal Department.

Anti-trust laws are very complex, and the risks associated with non-compliance can be severe. If you have questions or if you believe an activity undertaken by ORWOOD or one of our business partners may be viewed as restraining fair competition, consult with the Legal Department.

Never participate in conversations with competitors that could be perceived as limiting competition. As a rule, contact with competitors should be limited and must always avoid certain subjects including any matter relating to competition between ORWOOD and its competitor, such as sales prices, marketing strategies, market shares and allocation of market, territories, supply and sources or customers. If such a conversation begins, leave the meeting immediately and report it to the Legal Department.

Never disparage our competitors or their products. Do not make false or misleading statements about them and ensure that all sales and promotional efforts are free from misrepresentations.

Never enter into agreements with competitors that affect prices they charge, as they may constitute illegal price-fixing.

Never enter into any agreements that are in restraint of trade, prices, quality of products or services or in any manner monopolize any part of trade or commerce by controlling the supply of a product or service with the intention to control its price or to exclude competitors from the market.

Never initiate, discuss or encourage boycotts of specific products or services of customers or suppliers.

ANTI-CORRUPTION

Our Standard

ORWOOD conducts its business free from the influence of corruption and bribery. Employees and business partners are expected to be aware of and follow all anti-corruption and anti-bribery laws everywhere we do business. Employees must be careful to avoid even the appearance of offering or accepting an improper payment, bribe or kickback.

It is important that intermediaries and third parties who are operating on our behalf shall adhere to the anti-corruption and anti-bribery laws of the country where they operate as well be fully compliant with ORWOOD set standards. We must exercise due diligence to ensure that their reputation, background and abilities are appropriate and meet our ethical standards. Intermediaries are expected to act in accordance with the requirements set out in this Code. We must never do anything through a third party that we are not allowed to do by ourselves ("Proxy Bribing").

Our Responsibilities

Do not offer, provide or promise to offer or authorize bribes or kickbacks, under any circumstances. There is no difference between "offer to bribe" and "actual bribe".

Always be sure to perform due diligence and know your business partner, consultants, agents and all those through whom we conduct our business. Know who they are, what they do, where they are based and how they will use our services and products.

Never maintain "off-book" accounts in order to conceal improper payments. All expenditures and any other payments must be accurately presented in ORWOOD's books and records.

Payments that are intended to improperly influence a government official must never be made. Any payments made to expedite routine government actions would also be construed as improper payments. Government officials include employees of government companies, public sector undertakings, departments, institutions of any government, and foreign officials including officials of public international organizations.

ORWOOD does not make contributions to any political party. Also, no employee may make a political contribution, whether in cash or otherwise on behalf of ORWOOD.

POLITICAL INVOLVEMENT

Our Standard

ORWOOD respects the rights of employees to voluntarily participate in the political process which any person as citizen of the country is entitled to.

Employees must always make it clear that their views and actions are their own and not those of the Company and employees must never use ORWOOD resources to support their personal choice of political parties, causes or candidates.

Our Responsibilities

- Take steps to ensure that your individual political opinions and activities are not viewed as those of ORWOOD.
- You cannot commit ORWOOD to any corporate political spending, donating products, services, transportation, etc.
- Never pressure another employee, customer or business partner to contribute to, support or oppose any political group or candidate.

GLOBAL TRADE

Our Standard

Many laws govern the conduct of trade across borders, including laws that are designed to ensure that transactions are not being used for money laundering, others that prohibit companies from illegal trade boycotts, as well as laws regulating exports.

We are committed to complying with all such laws that are applicable in the countries in which we operate. Each of us is responsible for knowing the laws that apply to our jobs and seeking expert advice if in doubt about the legality of an action.

Our Responsibilities

Maintain appropriate import, export and customs records at each ORWOOD business location.

Seek guidance from the Legal Department to ensure that shipments of information, products or software across borders comply with laws governing imports and exports.

To help prevent and detect money laundering and terrorist financing, watch for any suspicious payments, which may include cash or the equivalent (where cheques/checks or wire-transfers are the norms); payments made from personal accounts instead of business accounts.

Always consult the Legal Department before initiating business in a country new to ORWOOD .

ORWOOD supports the use of legitimate workplace apprenticeships, internships and other similar programs that comply with all laws and regulations applicable to such programs.

ORWOOD encourages its suppliers to also work towards a no child-labor policy and we encourage the employment of the parents of such children to secure the existence of the family and the education of the children.

Bu gerekler aşağıdakiler yerine getirildiğinde karşılanmış olur: 1) Kullanıcının doğrudan temas halinde bulunduğu oturma elemanının kenarları yuvarlatılmalı veya pahlılandırılmalıdır. Kullanım sırasında erişilebilen diğer bütün kenarlar pürüz, çapak veya keskin uçlar içermemelidir. 2) İçi boş elemanların uçları kapatılmalı veya kapak takılmalıdır. Hareket edebilen ve ayarlanabilen kısımlar, yaralanmalara ve kazaan oluşabilecek hareketlere meydan vermeyecek şekilde tasarlanmalıdır. Oturma elemanının herhangi bir yük taşıyıcı kısmında istenmeyen herhangi bir gevşeme ve açılma oluşmamalıdır. Kaymaya yardımcı olmak için yağlanan bütün kısımlar, kullanımı sırasında kullanıcıyı yağ lekelerinden koruyacak şekilde tasarlanmalıdır. All parts of the seating with which the user comes into contact, during intended use, shall be designed to ensure that physical injury and damage are avoided. These requirements are met when: a) edges of the seat, back rest and arm rests, which are in contact with the user when sitting are rounded or chamfered. All other edges accessible during use shall be free from burrs and/or sharp edges; b) ends of hollow components are closed or capped. Movable and adjustable parts shall be designed so that injuries and inadvertent operation are avoided. It shall not be possible for any load bearing part of the seating to come loose unintentionally. All parts which are lubricated to assist sliding shall be designed to protect users from lubricant stains when in normal use. 5.2 Makaslama ve sıkıştırma noktaları / Shear and squeeze points 5.2.1 Kurma ve katlama esnasında oluşan makaslama ve sıkıştırma noktaları / Shear and squeeze points when setting up and folding Madde 5.2.2 veya Madde 5.2.3'ün uygulanabilir olmadığı durumlarda, Madde 3.3'te tarif edilmiş olan ve oturma yerinin eğilmesini de içeren, yalnızca kurma ve katlama sırasında oluşan, makaslama ve sıkıştırma noktaları kabul edilebilir. Çünkü kullanıcının hareketlerinin kontrolü olacağı ve acı hissettiği anda uygulanan kuvveti durdurabileceği varsayılabilir. Birbirine oranla hareket eden ve makaslama ve sıkıştırma noktaları oluşan parçaların kenarları, Madde 5.1'de belirtildiği gibi olmalıdır. Unless 5.2.2 or 5.2.3 are applicable, shear and squeeze points, as defined in 3.3, that are created only during setting up and folding, including tipping seat, are acceptable, because the user can be assumed to be in control of his/her movements and to be able to cease applying the force immediately upon experiencing pain. The edges of parts moving relative to each other and creating shear and squeeze points shall be as specified in 5.1.	Uygun / Appropriate.
